The submittal of this 1995 Annual Report by Quivira Mining Company does not alter Quivira's contention as presented during the May 12, 1994 New Mexico Mining Commission hearings, that uranium mines may not be subject to the New Mexico Mining Act pursuant to the definition of "Mineral" and/or "Mining" because uranium is a commodity, byproduct material or waste that is regulated by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) and/or involves the extraction, processing or disposal of same or of activities regulated by NRC; and also because of the extensive federal and state duplicative regulations and preemption of regulatory power over uranium and over the above listed activities. With this submittal, Quivira does not waive or prejudice its position that its operations may be excluded from the applicability of the Act.
